When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. LOVE'S LONGEST DAY.

The longest day is in June, they say,
The shortest day in December,
But they never come to me that way,
The shortest, I remember, you came a day with me to stay

Miss Clark Receives Handsome Present—

St. Louis, Mo. June 25—A solid silver flower basket, three feet high will be the wedding gift of the Missouri Congressional delegation to Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Champ Clark, who on June 30 will be married to Jas. M. Thompson, of New Orleans. The gift selected here by Senator William Stone, was sent to the Clark home at Bowling Green, today.

Miss Modelle Merritt entertained last evening at a Woman's College picture show party in honor of the guests of Miss Estelle Green and Miss Elinor Barnett. This congenial crowd gathered at Miss Merritt's home where a jolly time, such as only merry college girls know how to have, was enjoyed for some time, then they were all taken to the moving picture show, after which delicious cream and cake were enjoyed at the ice-cream parlor, special preparations having been made here by this charming young hostess for their pleasure.

Those present were Miss Estelle Green, Miss Newman, Miss Elinor Murphree, Miss Lila Douglas, Miss Nell Green, Miss Augusta Martin, Miss Elinor Barnett, Miss Mary Johnson, Miss Jessie Mae Chapman, Miss Modelle Merritt, Mr. H. A. Denton, Mr. Frank Culver, Mr. Fred Martin, Mr. Henry Criss, Mr. Geo. Young, Mr. Roy Crawford, Mr. Carl Simonton, Mr. Howard Barker.

They were joined by Prof. Hamilton from the Woman's College who enjoyed the pleasures of the evening with them.

Mrs. Chapman Honors Visitors—

Two charming visitors, Miss Mary Johnson and Miss Jessie Mae Chapman of Geneva, the guests of Miss Elinor Barnett, were beautifully complimented this morning by Mr. W. R. Chapman when she entertained with a breakfast party at her home on West Main street.

The spacious hall, parlor and dining room were thrown together, and decorated with a profusion of lovely flowers. White electric blossoms were bunched around the punch bowl, which was placed in the dining room, and provided over by Mrs. M. S.

Several exciting games were played, and a delightful salad course was served. Miss Ruth Stapleton and Miss Chapman spent the afternoon with them.

Miss Willie Newman of Abbeville, Miss Annie Saxon, Miss Anne Ward, Miss Florine Henry, Miss Modelle Merritt, Miss Edith Brown, Miss Ruth Stapleton, Miss Sue Stapleton, Miss Nell Green and Miss Mary Ha Flowers.

Novel Party Given By Miss Spann—

Quite a novel party was enjoyed by five friends of Miss Marie Spann on Friday evening. The girls were invited to spend the night in tents which had been pitched in the back yard of the Spann home.

After enjoying the "movies" the guests returned to Miss Spann's home, where a very tempting lunch had been prepared.

The "tenting party" bids fair to become popular.

Miss Gladys Whitley, Miss Lona Carmichael, Miss Thelma Parker, Miss Grace Fancher and Miss Louise Morgan were the guests of Miss Spann.

They Tell us it was Hot Yesterday

In fact we heard numerous persons dilating on the extreme warmth when they entered the sanatorium. We are willing to believe that it was hot, but we know one thing—it was not hot here. We think that a meat shop should be kept cool in the summer and we put our thoughts into the action, as those big fans will testify. Our meat stays in the refrigerator and while you are in the shop you stay in the midst of the coolest and most refreshing breezes. Yes, we like to toot our own horn; but you see it isn't all hot air.

ON FIGHTING THE BOLL WEEVIL

The following article from a Texas paper has a good deal of common sense in it. It is worth reading, for there are many people in this section who believe that the weevil passes on, one he invades a community. He does not; he's there till something is discovered to do away with him. That hasn't been discovered yet. They make cotton where the weevils are, because they have learned how. It takes more work, and lots of sense. Read it:

"There are boll weevils, thousands of them, in the cotton fields of Parker county today. If nothing is done to check their ravages the yield of cotton is going to be greatly reduced. While it is hard to wage a successful war against the boll weevil much can be done towards reducing the amount of damage.

"It has been more than fifteen years since the Mexican boll weevil first made its appearance in Southwest Texas. Since that time it has spread north and east until it now covers almost the entire cotton belt. It has evidently come to stay and will have to be reckoned with in all future cotton production.

"The United States Department of Agriculture has made a very careful study of the boll weevil and the best methods of fighting it. These methods have been tested time and again in the worst weevil infested territory and with good results. Here are some of the suggestions taken from a bulletin on the subject:

"Use intensive, shallow cultivation of the crop and never lay by until picking commences. Late cultivation is very important.

"In case it is evident that a large number of weevils have been overwintered, it is advisable to burn the stubs of the cotton.

"As soon as the weevil commences to work, as evidenced by the punctured squares, attach a pole or brush to the handles of the cultivator so as to knock the squares off. Most of them will fall of their own accord within a few days after they are punctured.

"Persistently pick up and burn the fallen squares.

"This battle against the weevil is in two divisions. The first division of the work consists of reducing the number of weevils just as much as possible so that a crop can be made.

"The second division is to push the cotton plant to maturity as fast as possible and by extra cultivation and fertilization—so that it can mature, so that what the weevil takes is only a negligible amount of consideration in making a crop."—Weatherford, (Texas) Democrat.
